

Client Mention:	One Flew South
Publication:	Luxury and Travel Hub
Publication Date:	09/25/2017
Reach:	45
Headline:	Dining Departures: The Best U.S. Airport Terminals
Link:	http://bit.ly/2gE8iMG

Luxury And Travel Hub

Wednesday, 25 October 2017

Dining Departures: The Best U.S. Airport Terminals

The Best U.S. Airport Terminals To Be Stuck At

Delays at airports are not what they used to be. That is, if you are lucky enough to be stranded in a choice terminal replete with the type of trendy dining and watering-hole options that rival our very cities. If you find yourself in an airport for an extended period of time during the holidays—or any day for that matter—hopefully it's at one of these terminals.

Hartsfield–Jackson Atlanta International (ATL)—Terminal E

Hartsfield–Jackson Atlanta International is the world's busiest airport. If that doesn't make you want to have a drink, I don't know what will. Luckily this airport is home to One Flew South, one of the best-reviewed airport bars in the United States—if not the best. Get away from the crowd and enjoy something from their large cocktail menu or international wine list. The menu can be expensive but by airport standards the food is rather sophisticated. On the bar's list of fare, you'll find such items as a Kobe burger with black truffle mayo and a pulled duck confit sandwich with a fig and peanut sauce. The restaurant also features a full sushi bar.

Also in terminal E: Belgian Beer Cafe, Jekyll Island Seafood Company, The Original El Taco.

For More Information Contact:

Green Olive Media, LLC.

361 17th Street, Suite 1,

Atlanta, Georgia 30363

404-815-9327

www.greenolivemedia.com