THE BEST RESTAURANT IN AMERICA'S 40 BIGGEST AIRPORTS

There is nothing quite as bleak as shelling out $25 at the airport for a wilted, plastic-wrapped sandwich and a 20-oz bottle of water. We hate to see that. Which is why we've painstakingly sought out the very best restaurant and its precise location in each of America's 40 largest airports. Just remember this very important unwritten rule of flying: We do not bring hot food onto an airplane. So adjust your travel plans accordingly -- some of these spots are so legit delicious you'll be downright tickled when your flight is delayed.

HARTSFIELD-JACKSON ATLANTA INTERNATIONAL

One Flew South (Terminal E)

ATLANTA, GEORGIA

It was hard to leave One Flew South off our Best Airport Bars list, especially since we'd choose it as one of our favorite places to grab a cocktail in Atlanta even if it didn't require a plane ticket to get access. But the Asian spot is, at its heart, a restaurant, not a bar. So here we are! Get excited to order a damn good pisco sour alongside your chicken fried rice.
